MESSAGE FROM PASTOR BOB

Dear Friends in Faith,

One year from this month, I turn 66 years old. UNBELIEVABLE!

That means in April of 2017 I will be eligible for full Social Security and will be retiring sometime next year. It won't be in April, after all Easter is on April 16th in 2017! But it might be as summer is beginning in June or ending in September. It is even possible that I might want to delay my retirement until after the end of October in order to still be "in the saddle" when the 500th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation comes around.

Likely, I'll have made the decision about when exactly I will be retiring by the end of this coming summer. However that decision goes, I know that at some point in 2016 I will be saying – probably weekly – something like "Well, that's the last St. Swithun's Day I'll be celebrating in my ministry!"

Let me start you thinking about a few things that I have been thinking about:

First, I have been at Faith so long (I came in February of 1985) that I know the Synod will insist a long interim pastorate after I leave. This Synod has some excellent pastors whose entire ministry is to serve as interim pastors! Sometimes they come to serve after there has been conflict that has led to a pastor leaving a congregation. Then their job is to help the congregation heal and move on in a healthy way.

In our case – thank you Lord for your blessings – that won't be the situation at Faith! Instead, the interim pastors job will be to help Faith prepare for a major change in ministry style. Whoever the next senior pastor is at Faith, he or she will not be me. Sounds like something Captain Obvious would say, doesn't it? But, what that means is that they will have different strengths and weaknesses than I do. Their sense of what God has called them to do in ministry will be different than mine.

Some folks, thinking no doubt about the model that the business community would use, have wondered why Faith wouldn't just interview candidates and have someone lined up and waiting to take my position as soon as I leave. The answer to that wondering occurred to me the other day. I grant you that it sounds a bit melodramatic, but give it some thought:

Suppose your spouse were dying, slowly but inevitably, from some terminal illness. You would not say to yourself, "I better have a new spouse lined up and ready to marry by the time this one dies!"

Clearly, that would be a recipe for a disastrous relationship!

That is what a pastor and a congregation are to each other. Only superficially is it an employee/ employer arrangement. The essence of ministry is relationship! There is much similarity to a marriage.

The church knows from long experience that the pastor who follows immediately on the heels of a long-serving pastor WILL BE AN INTERIM PASTOR! The question is only: Will it be an intentional or unintentional interim?

Think of this: In 2016 a Faith member would have to be nearly 40 years old to really remember any fulltime pastor here other than me. Isn't that an amazing thought?

One of my goals for 2016 is to help the people of Faith Lutheran Church, whom I love so dearly and have served so long, prepare for the kind of change that hasn't happened here in 31 years.

I will come back to this subject in future newsletters during this year.

Peace,

Pr. Bob Moberg

The “Pres Sez”

Getting lost in the details

What stroke would you choose if your boat sank in the middle of the lake? The crawl, the side stroke, breast or back? Growing up in Sheboygan on the shores of Lake Michigan meant that the young were taught to swim, period. As a result I love the water but now it has be 85, not the 65 I found acceptable at 12. As Scouts at Camp RoKiLio, we had to learn all the strokes with two lessons per day during our week at camp. At the end of our week an optional challenge was to swim across Cedar Lake accompanied by people in canoes, scouting includes being safe. Swimming across a lake presents a challenge in navigating. If one side of your body is slightly stronger than the other, you could swim in circles. I'm right handed and right armed, so I tend to swim in a leftward arc. The swim instructors taught us to compensate by keeping our eye on a landmark either ahead or behind us. Since I liked the backstroke, I would pick out a cottage or tall tree to line up with my toes as a way of maintaining a straight path. It works, but I never made it across Cedar Lake. I blame my lack of bodily buoyancy because my body density matches the density of water about one foot below the surface.

When I swim through life, I find that I can easily drown in the details. Despite all the modern conveniences, the tasks of daily living has just changed in type not number. To-do lists can become to-doodle lists without a good sense of priorities and purpose. Our culture injects more must-haves and must-dos than anyone can handle. We even have an acronym for a common cause of anxiety, F.O.M.O., Fear Of Missing Out. Buzzfeeds, Instagrams and Facebook postings now fill a part of many days, replacing time for visits and phone calls. It is hard to turn our smart phones off.

As Christians we have an advantage when swimming through the world's sea of noise and distraction. We can stay the course towards holiness by keeping our eyes on the right landmark... Jesus. Let's swim together, let's stay safe in the world by remaining close to our Faith community.

On the Lighter Side...

Singing in Church

A minister decided to do something a little different on Sunday morning. He said, "Today, in church, I am going to say a single word and you are going to help me preach. Whatever single word I say, I want you to sing whatever hymn comes to your mind."

The pastor shouted out "CROSS." Immediately the congregation started singing in unison, "THE OLD RUGGED CORSS."

The pastor hollered out "GRACE." The congregation began to sing "AMAZING GRACE, HOW SWEET THE SOUND."

The pastor said "POWER." The congregation sang "THERE IS POWER IN THE BLOOD."

The pastor said "SEX." The congregation fell into total silence. Everyone was in shock. They all nervously began to look around at each other, afraid to say anything.

Then all of a sudden, way from in the back of the church, a little old 87 year old grandmother stood up and began to sing "PRECIOUS MEMORIES."

Gotta love little old ladies.

Laugh.....it burns calories.

Update from the Finance Committee: We thank the Holy Spirit for a generous congregation. Last month was a busy one for the financial volunteers. We ran a slight deficit last month, and ask you to keep the church in your thoughts and prayers for the upcoming months.

WANTED!

The property committee is attempting to seek additional help for the maintenance of the church grounds. The area around Faith has been divided into 'bite size morsels' with the hope of getting individuals and/or families to 'adopt' one or more of those morsels.. This may include leaf/stick pick up, weeding, flower planting, trimming after the lawn is mowed .. If you want to change the look of something or spruce it up, let's talk about it! The sign up sheet (s) are in the narthex on the table. We encourage you to look at the areas, find a small piece of Faith that you can take ownership of and beautify it for others to see! If you have questions see Scott Mathwich or Libby Gilbertson

NEEDED

Bring in gently used job interview clothes and work clothes including boots and jeans during the month of April. Bicycles too are welcome. We will be taking them to Porchlight, a ministry to the homeless in Madison.

Parents and 4th and/or 5th graders on April 10th during the Sunday School hour in the back of the fellowship hall. I promise a fun time focused on forgiveness—complete with a game show and prizes. This is an important time for you and your child to grow together in the faith. Don't miss out! Pastor Lisa.
